... SOLDIERS.

Congress has just passed a law giving a Pension of $8 per month to all Soldiers of the War of 1812, who served 14 days or were in battle—and the same pension to the widows of all such soldiers.

This entitles all to a pension who have received Land Warrants.

All desiring the pension can obtain it, by applying to me in person at my office, or by letter.

I have all the old Rolls, on which is borne the names of all soldiers of the War of 1812, with the place and length of service and date of discharge, and all facts and I can give full and exact information in every case.

Also a record of most of the Land Warrants granted to these soldiers.

No person, east of Portland, has these rolls, except myself and A. J. Chapman, Esq., of Bangor,—he has equal facilities for obtaining these pensions. He was formerly a clerk in my office.

C. P. BROWN,

BANGOR.

N. B.—All who desire their pensions early must apply early.

Bangor, March 11, 1878.

OMNIBUS LINE

FOR SALE.

We will sell our Omnibus Line, including two 'Busses for summer use and also two for winter use, together with the horses now running on same, and all the necessary harnesses, rigging, &c. pertaining thereto, at a good bargain to the right parties if applied for soon. WAR OF 1812.

Pensions, Pensions.

A law has just passed giving a Pension of $96 per year to all Soldiers of the War of 1812, who served 14 days, or were in any engagement, and their widows, also, are entitled to the same pension, regardless of the date of their marriage. I am authorized to obtain these pensions for all who are entitled.

Application can be made to me in person at my office in Bangor, or by letter. The earlier the application the better for the applicant.

I have all the rolls and records of every soldier of the war, with their names in alphabetical order so that every soldier's service can be readily ascertained.

No other person in Maine has these records except C. P. Brown, Esq.

Don't entrust your claims to unreliable and inexperienced hands.

THE GRAND ARMY.

National Encampment at Springfield.

LOYAL TO THE CORE.

The National Encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic began its sessions at the Peabody guard's armory [Springfield, Mass., Tuesday] about 2 o'clock, with very full delegations. Mayor Wight briefly welcomed the veterans, and Gen. J. C. Robinson, the commander-in-chief happily responded. The mayor then retired, and the encampment went into secret session, when the commander-in-chief, Gen. John C. Robinson of New York, made his annual address and the chaplain, Joseph F. Lovering of Watertown, his annual report. The address of the commander was received with vociferous applause, and that portion of it, alluding to the tendering of the services of the Grand Army for the promotion of peace and order, were especially applauded. Chaplain Lovering was also repeatedly interrupted with applause, and the allusions to Grant, Thomas and other heroes brought every man to his feet, and for nearly ten minutes the cheering was deafening.

MAYOR WIGHT'S WELCOME.

Mr. Commander and Gentlemen of the Grand Army of the Republic: It is one of the pleasantest duties which has fallen to my lot as mayor of the city of Springfield to welcome you here to-day. I am sure that I express the sentiments of every one of my fellow citizens when I say that we are not only gratified but we are highly honored by your presence in our midst. Although fifteen years have passed since you sheathed your swords, we have not forgotten, and we never shall forget, what we owe to you and those who fought with you, and to-day every home and hearthstone in Springfield is open to you as honorable guests. In times past, many gatherings have assembled in this city, but none which had earned such a welcome from high and low, rich and poor, as the Grand Army of the Republic. And so, gentlemen, in the name of the city of Springfield, and of all her citizens, without regard to party or nationality, I give you the heartiest welcome that words can give. I trust that your present gathering will be the pleasantest encampment you have held, and that, in years to come, Springfield may again have the honor of entertaining the Grand Army that saved the Republic.

ADDRESS OF THE COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF.

Comrades: At this twelfth annual meeting of our national encampment, it is right and proper that we should return most sincere and hearty thanks to the Great Commander of all, for His watchful care and providence over us in the past, and to invoke His aid and blessing for the success and prosperity of our beloved organization in the future.

It is a source of congratulation that so many of us have been able to gather together on this occasion, to review the past, to consider the present, and to consult upon the measures necessary to insure a continuance of the present flourishing condition of the Grand Army and increase its usefulness. When the delegates to the national encampment held at Providence last year, conferred upon me the high and responsible position of commander-in-chief, I determined to devote my time and attention to the duties of the office, and by all means in my power promote the interests, and extend the benefits of the Grand Army of the Republic. With this view I established the headquarters in the city of New York, and selected for adjutant general Comrade James L. Farley, whose experience and love of the order eminently qualified him for the position. During the year the office in Broadway has been under his control, and the important duties devolving upon him have been discharged with zeal and ability. All the other officers of my staff have been faithful and diligent in the discharge of the duties required of them.

The charge so long and persistently made of its being a political organization is no longer heard. We have outlived prejudice and overcome opposition. People have seen our good works, and have become satisfied that we are what we profess to be, a fraternal, charitable, and loyal association, that among the men who have faced a common danger, toiled together on the long and weary march, drank from the same canteen, bivouacked under the same blanket, stood shoulder to shoulder in the shock of battle, there exists a fraternal feeling that can be found no where else, that our charity is not confined, but extends to all our former companions in arms, and to all widows and orphans of those who wore the blue; that our loyalty consists in a determination at all hazards to preserve the Union of the States, and to uphold the flag of our country as the emblem of universal liberty, equal rights, and justice to all men.

The annual reports of these officers show that the order is in as healthy and flourishing a condition as can reasonably be expected. While in some sections of the country comrades have been inactive and wanting in energy, and there has been a falling off, in others there has been renewed life and spirit, a disposition to labor earnestly in the cause, followed naturally by an increase of membership and a determination to make the Grand Army, as it should be, a power in the land, by enrolling in its ranks every worthy, honorably discharged soldier and sailor who served in the army or navy of the United States during the war for the preservation of the Union.

At no time since its organization has the Grand Army of the Republic occupied so high and proud a position as to-day.

It is gratifying to know that many good soldiers, who, having until lately, remained outside of our lines, have made their appearance at our out-posts, have been received in fraternity, charity and loyalty, made to feel the warmth of our camp-fires; and wonder within themselves how they could have remained outside so long. As our organization is composed exclusively of the veteran soldiers and sailors who fought for the preservation of the Union, and as the graves we decorate yearly increase in number, it may seem natural to some that our ranks should grow thinner. Such, however, is not the case. Our numbers within the last year have increased. The field for recruiting is wide. There are in the country thousands of veterans who know nothing of the benefits of the Grand Army of the Republic. These should be urged to enroll themselves in our ranks, and our mission is not ended until we have mustered in every worthy veteran in the land.

To effect this much depends upon the wise and proper selection of officers of posts. As in active service the character of the company depends upon the captain, and that of the regiment upon the colonel, so in the Grand Army a live and energetic commander, will always have a well-disciplined and flourishing post.

It has been suggested that to perpetuate our order we should enroll the sons of those who fought to save the Union. The day will come when this may be right and proper, but in my opinion it has not yet arrived. It will be time enough to alter our constitution in that respect when no more veterans can be found to fill our ranks.

During the past year I have visited the departments of Vermont, Massachusetts, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland and the Potomac. On the dedication of the army and navy monument at Boston, last September, I saw in line the members of one hundred and eighteen posts. At Philadelphia I reviewed the department of Pennsylvania, all the posts present parading in uniform. The sight of those thousands of comrades in line, each bearing upon his breast the badge of our order, was one ever to be remembered and will remain with me as long as I live.

During the present session of Congress, a bill has been introduced, providing that all pensions on account of death or disability from service in the Union army, that have been or may hereafter be granted, shall begin with the death or discharge of the soldier. Struck with the justness of this measure, I immediately brought it to the attention of department commanders, hoping that action by the several department encampments might have an important bearing on its success.

Great injustice has been done to our disabled comrades, and to the widows and orphans, (who are our wards) by the great delay in granting pensions to those who are by law justly entitled to them. For want of sufficient clerical force, or from some other cause, applications have laid for months or perhaps years, before being acted upon, and then when reached it has frequently happened that they have been sent back for the correction of some error or informality, and then when they have reached the pension office a second or perhaps a third time, have had to go to the bottom of the list, waiting again for months or years before being reached and acted upon. The objections raised to this measure are, that it grants pensions for years when they have not been asked for, and that it would necessitate the payment of millions out of the treasury. During the war of the rebellion it was said the country could never reward its soldiers sufficiently. Now when soldiers are no longer needed, our crippled and disabled comrades, the widow and orphan, are to be refused necessary relief because of the expense, as though the services of the men who saved the Union, could be requited by a few millions of dollars.

Stirring events within the last twelve months brought the Grand Army into greater prominence, proving that our organization is as ready and willing now to take up arms in the cause of law and order as it was to crush treason and rebellion in the past. A seeming conflict between capital and labor, was taken advantage of by a lawless and turbulent element, incited by the hope of plunder to the commission of arson and murder. Many lives were sacrificed and millions of property destroyed. State authorities were unable to restore order, and the aid of the general government was invoked. At the commencement of the difficulty, I telegraphed to the President of the United States. "The Grand Army of the Republic an organization composed exclusively of veteran soldiers and sailors, can if necessary furnish thousands of volunteers for the restoration and preservation of order." At the same time some of our posts offered their services to state authorities, which in a few cases were accepted. The knowledge that a strong organization of tried veteran soldiers stood ready to resume their arms to enforce obedience to the laws, did much to restore order and insure quiet in the disturbed districts. While this organization, true to its principles, will advocate justice and equal rights, it will discountenance every attempt at anarchy or insurrection.

The beautiful and impressive ceremonies of Decoration day are becoming of more and more interest as the years roll by. There is scarcely a town or hamlet where these ceremonies, instituted by us, are not duly observed with all the solemnity befitting the occasion. Everywhere citizens unite with our comrades in honoring the memory of our heroic dead, and the 30th of May is regarded as the most important and sacred holiday of the year.

While I am decidedly opposed to frequent or unnecessary changes in our rules and regulations, I submit for your consideration, whether the time has not arrived when our annual encampments should be open to the public. No secret work is ever done at these meetings, and our proceedings are published in full soon after adjournment.

Our order is now firmly established upon the best and surest foundations. It has secured the respect and good will of all. Let us continue to merit the good opinion of mankind by pursuing closely the path we have marked out, laboring earnestly for the extension and perpetuation of our order, by keeping fresh and green the fraternal feeling that binds us together as soldiers and sailors of the Republic, by disinterested and liberal charity and that loyalty to the Union, born of pure and lofty patriotism.

REPORT OF THE CHAPLAIN.

Springfield, Mass., Headquarters G. A. R. June 3, 1878.

Comrade James L. Farley, adjutant general.—Sir: The following is my report: All the work asked of me during the past year has been done and more work would have been welcome. Three lectures in behalf of the G. A. R., a dozen off-hand talks at camp fires and as many addresses at public gatherings called in the interest of a soldier's home in Massachusetts have been delivered, one of the last being given before a committee of the State Legislature.

An invitation received to be present at the dedication of the army and navy monument in Boston, Mass., September 17, 1877, was accepted, but no part taken in the ceremonies. During decoration week, just passed, I had the honor of delivering five addresses in behalf of the Grand Army of the Republic in Ohio by invitation of the commander of that department, Comrade Nathan L. Guthrie.

During the year I have drafted blanks and drawn up informal suggestions having reference to the collation, preservation and publication of facts relating to the commemoration of departed comrades and the observance of Decoration day. As I have received no notice during the year of any meeting of the national council of administration, such blanks and suggestions have not been acted upon. They will be submitted to my successor in office or to the incoming council of administration.

I venture, however, to go so far outside the record as to recommend with exceeding diffidence two measures for the increase of our membership and the strengthening of our organization.

1. A more cordial and vigorous support of our G. A. R. journals. Not a single number of any paper published in the interests of our fraternity can be read without a keen sense of its deserts and of the justice with which every claim is made for generous assistance.

2. More enthusiastic activity in recruiting our ranks. In certain sections of our country, for instance, whose fame for loyalty is more than national, among whose hosts promoted to immortality is the name of Thomas, and among whose captains immortal by brevet, whose full commission awaits their acceptance, is the illustrious name of Grant, our present membership by no means adequately represents—in numbers—the veterans of our civil war. It seems eminently fitting that an effort should be made to recruit our ranks and awaken such an interest in the G. A. R. that it shall be a matter of serious question when any soldier claiming to have earned a good record confesses his name is not on our roster.

All this naturally, inevitably, results from the enshrined memories, soldierly worth, and active loyalty belonging to the G. A. R. Our present and our future are indissolubly united with the past. The names of those who fill our ranks to-day, however illustrious, fade before the renown of those who have been promoted. Their deeds are our best sources of inspiration to wakeful vigilance and untarnished honor. Their graves are the altars of our patriotism and as we look upon them or gather about them, we may, as if we repeated a church litany, in serious and humble reverence say:

From all ingratitude to the heroic sacrifice of the past,—good Lord deliver us.

From all forgetfulness of that brave and loyal manhood by which the Union was preserved, and the constitution of the United States vindicated—good Lord deliver us.

From any lack of zeal, from any hesitation of purpose, from any timidity of faith in a final victory of a stalwart and valorous patriotism over the spirit of treacherous compromise and sentimental concession, which are but other names for treason, petty conspiracy and national wrong—good Lord deliver us.

While to such litany let there be added these questions and responses. One what rests the hope of the Republic? One country and one flag. How may that country be preserved and that flag be kept unsullied? By eternal vigilance, which is the price of liberty.

One country! One flag! Eternal vigilance the price of liberty! These are the great commandments of the Grand Army of the Republic. These unite to form the supreme law of a self-sacrificing and heroic patriotism.

God of the nation! As in the past Thou didst grant to the grand army of immortals obedience unto death, so unto us o the Grand Army of the Republic, in whatever need, in peace or war, for thy cause which is our country's incline our hearts to keep this law.

Respectfully submitted in F. C. & L.

He did so and was put on board the vessel, and Cross returned a happier if not a wiser man.

DOMESTIC NEWS.

FORTY-FIFTH CONGRESS—Second Session.

Senate.

WASHINGTON, June 6.

During the morning hour Mr. Voorhees spoke in favor of the early consideration of the bill to repeal the specie resumption act.

Mr. Morrill said that the question could not be disposed of in sixty minutes. He had supposed that by general consent there would be no further legislation on this question, after the sweeping measure lately passed that there should be no further contraction of the currency.

Mr. Spencer moved to take up the River and Harbor Appropriation bill.

Mr. Blaine moved to take up the Army Appropriation bill.

Mr. Blaine, who is in charge of the bill, said the total amount appropriated by the bill as it came to the Senate from the House, was $25,3.9 071. The Senate Committee on Appropriations add $630,914, making a total of $26,159,585. The principal item which the Senate committee added, $301,287, was for the pay of the army, owing to the fact that the Senate Committee on Appropriations had not agreed to the House clause cutting down the army to 20,000 men. Another item was $130,000 for building a military post at the foot of the hills near the Black Hills, in either Wyoming or Dakota. The committee also reported in favor of reappropriating $80,-708 68, to complete a medical and surgical history of the war. The total estimate of the War Department for the support of the army during the year were $31,289,000.

He had no doubt the result of this bill would be that a considerable deficiency must be provided for next year, as has been this year. The 32d section of the House Bill, decreasing and changing the organization of the Army were all struck out. The Committee on Military Affairs would submit a substitute for the sections, it being a bill of which notice had been given a few days ago, providing for the appointment of a committee to consider the whole subject of Army reorganization. The committee on Appropriations reported in favor of retaining the clause providing for the transfer of the Indian Bureau from the Interior to the War Department, and strike out the 29th section of the House bill, forbidding the employment of the Army as a posse comitatus.

By unanimous consent the five minute rule was applied to all amendments except that to transfer the Indian Bureau and forbidding the use of the Army as a posse comitatus.

The amendment fixing the army at 25,-000 enlisted men, was agreed to, yeas 30, nays 10.

The amendment submitted by Mr. Blaine providing that enlistments in the signal service shall not exceed 430, instead of 400 was agreed to.

Among other amendments agreed to was one in regard to reorganization of the army submitted by the committee.

Pending discussion Messrs. Dorsey, Sargent and Withers were announced as a conference committee on the Post Office appropriation bill.

The Senate then went into Executive session and when the doors were reopened adjourned.

House.

Mr. Lapham, by request, offered a resolution for the appointment of a committee of five members to act with the Senate Committee to receive upon the 22d of February, 1879, the United States Centennial safe and its contents.

The House by vote 127, nays 108, adopted the amendment to the bill in relation to internal revenue laws reducing the tax on tobacco to 16 cents, and fixing the tax on cigars at $6 per thousand.

Mr. Smith, of Pennsylvania, submitted the conference report on the bill making appropriations for the payment of invalid and other pensions. The report was agreed to.

The Speaker appointed the following Conference Committees:—On the Legislative Appropriation Bill—Atkins, Durham, and Foster; on the Post Office Appropriation Bill—Blount, Clymer, and Baker of Indiana.

The House resumed consideration of the bill amending the Internal Revenue Laws, the pending question being on the amendment of Covert as amended by Tucker.

The amendment was adopted—127 to 103. Further action on the bill was then suspended and the House went into Committee of the Whole on the general deficiency bill. The amount appropriated by the bill is $11,520,120.

Mr. Blount explained the provisions of the bill. The total deficiency for 1878 only amounted to $1,970,000; the remainder of the amount was made up of reappropriations and appropriations prior to 1878.

THIRD DAY'S PROCEEDINGS.

JUDGE LEVISSEE ON THE STAND.

The Attempt to Bribe Him.

The Letters to Secretary Sherman.

WASHINGTON, June 6th.—The Potter Investigating Committee met at 11.40 to-day. Cox said he had received from Hon. Stanley Matthews the originals of the correspondence which passed between that gentleman and James E. Anderson; and the Clerk was ordered to read the same. The letters proved generally to be in regard to the positions under the Administration, the most of them having appeared in Anderson's testimony, with the exception of one bearing date of Philadelphia, April 23d, wherein Anderson resigned all claims upon the Administration; but, in so doing, requested Matthews to secure for a friend an employe in the office of the North American newspaper, in Philadelphia, a position with $1,200 to $1,400 per annum in the Philadelphia custom house.

Butler then offered the following resolution which was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the Hon. Stanley Matthews be invited to appear before this committee at his convenience, and make any explanation regarding the letters from Mr. Anderson to himself, just read, as he may desire, and to answer such questions as may be pertinent to the subject under investigation.

Judge Levisse Called.

Judge A. B. Levisse, of La., at present a practicing attorney in this city, was sworn but before his examination commenced, some members of the committee wishing to cast their vote on the tobacco tax at 12.30 P. M., left the room for that purpose.

The members of the committee having arrived at one o'clock, the examination of Levisse was proceeded with. He testified that he appeared as a witness before the House Senate Investigating Committee, and had been offered by one Mr Asher $100,000 to cast his vote as an elector, for Tilden. Asher was the only person who had spoken to witness on the subject. Another person named Johnson, formerly Sergeant-at-Arms in the Louisiana House of Representatives, had called on Levisse at his lodgings and not finding him at home, left a note stating that he desired to meet witness at a certain hotel at 9 o'clock the next morning, on important business, but before that hour, Johnson called at Levisse's lodgings and made an engagement with Levisse to meet with Archer at 1 o'clock. The ladies of the house had told witness that they were under the impression, judging from the conversation and manner of Johnson, that he was desirous of making a bargain with witness to change his vote, and stating as their reason, that a remark was made by Johnson, the effect of which was, "If I was in Levisse's shoes, I would make a hundred thousand out of it." Johnson, witness said, was intimately acquainted with the ladies of the house, Mr. McMahon here produced a note and witness recognized it as the one left by Johnson when he first called.

Continuing, Levisse said: Asher was previously cashier of a bank in Shreveport. At the time in question he was in New Orleans transacting private business. McMahon requested witness to state as near as he could remember, the conversation between himself and Asher. Witness stated that, after some preliminary remarks, Asher proceeded, asking him if he would be willing to accept the round sum of say $30,000 or $40,000 and refuse to accept his certificate of election as elector. Levisse said he did not resign on the advice of his friends with whom he held a consultation, including Beckwith, Judge Campbell and John Ray. He resigned because he thought he was ineligible, as he at that time filled a Federal office. He was not advised nor did he understand that he would be elected to fill his own vacancy, but thought it possible such would be the case.

As to the offer of $30 000 or $40,000, he replied that it was not often that a man had a chance by a simple vote to make a President of the United States, and the service therefore ought to be worth a larger sum. Asher and himself that this was not enough. The conclusion of the conversation was this, he said: "Asher, tell your man who has the money he has not got it up to the price yet." Levisse intended to convey the impression that he would take $200,000, but at the same time intended to put up the price so high that it could not be paid.

McMahon said: He thought money was lying round and that the payment to you would be all right?

Levisse—I did not say that. I had an intimation 24 hours in advance that something wrong was going on and this put me on my guard. I informed Mr. Pitkin, I did this to guard my political virtue. It may, gentlemen, seem a strange thing that such a thing should exist in Louisiana.—(Laughter.)

Levisse further said that in this conversation with Asher he guessed what was coming before it was mentioned, and therefore was prepared to meet him. He listened to Asher instead of bluffing him or calling in the police, and listened in such a way as to give an opportunity to Asher to develop his scheme. He wanted Asher and everybody connected with him to believe the thing would succeed. He merely wanted to draw Asher out. He knew this was the only way to get at the bottom of the matter. He said to Asher. "Tell your backer that Levisse is not unwilling to consider your proposition, providing you can raise $200,000. He mentioned so large a sum, because he believed it could not be paid."

The entire conversation was had during a walk of half an hour, and Mr. Asher appointed a second interview, upon hearing witness, which was to be held at the St. Charles hotel. According to agreement they met, and he informed witness that the proposition would have to be changed somewhat, and instead of refusing to accept the certificate as an elector, Levisse would be requested to cast his vote direct for Tilden. Upon being asked by witness where the money was coming from, Asher said, "We will walk to the corner of Carondelet and Common streets, and there we will see two men standing in the glimmer of the gas light; one of them will retire as we approach, and the one remaining you will understand is the man you are looking for." Accordingly at the designated place we found the men mentioned, and as we approached one of them withdrew so quickly that had I not known, I should not have recognized him. I recognized the party who remained as Joe Hernandez, a broker in the city. After saluting him, and introducing Asher, (who did not know him) he invited us to his office, which was near by. Upon arriving at the office I excused myself, and although Hernandez insisted upon my going in, I went home, stating as I left that there was no need of my going in as Asher could do all the talking necessary. That closed the second and third interviews.

Levisse met Hernandez afterwards and told him $100,000 was the extent he could go, when Levisse said it was not worth while to longer talk about the matter.

Levisse said he was never bribed, nor did he ever offer to bribe anybody. In reply to McMahon, he said he never made an affidavit of the affair, although he entered into the matter as a means of political justice. Levisse said he voted for Hayes & Wheeler.

Considerable discussion occurred in regard to the official returns from Louisiana and those laid before the Committee by the Secretary of the Senate were called for, and the witness said a portion of the documents shown him were not signed by him, although purporting to be, and consequently were forgeries.

Coming Witnesses.

Colgate Soap Factory Burned—Loss $150,000.

JERSEY CITY, June 6.—At 6 o'clock this morning a fire broke out in the fifth-story building of Colgate & Co.'s extensive soap manufactory. The flames spread rapidly threatening a conflagration, and the entire fire department was called out. A few minutes later an explosion occurred in the upper stories, probably chemicals, throwing down the rear wall. The two main buildings, with costly machinery and heavy stock, were entirely destroyed. Loss estimated at $500,000. Over three hundred men are thrown out of employment.

Later—Main Building Saved.

The main building was saved by a large tank on the roof of the York Street building, which came crashing down, carrying the 5th, 4th, and 3d floors with it, making a breach in the front of the buildings about forty feet wide. The walls on the lower end of the building fell immediately after. The fire is still burning fiercely, but it is thought to be under control, fat being the only thing that kept it alive. It is said two firemen were injured. The damage to stock and machinery is estimated at $20,000 to build ngs, $20,000, fully covered by insurance. The damage to the stables is estimated at $1000; to houses opposite, $,000.

NEW YORK, June 6th.—The loss on the stock, machinery, and buildings of the Colgate Soap Works is $150,000. Insurance $475,000 on factory.

FOREIGN NEWS.

GERMANY.

The Wounded Emperor.

LONDON, June 6. There has been much exaggeration in the reports circulated in Berlin and elsewhere about the Emperor's condition, concerning the discovery or ramifications of a conspiracy against the Government, and with reference to the establishment of a Regency. Since his recovery from the effects of the first shock of the attack, the Emperor's condition has never caused severe anxiety. Nothing is absolutely known proving the existence of a conspiracy, and the question is whether Nobeling is not a lunatic.

The Crown Prince Acting as Regent.

While the procession Decoration Day was coming from the Gardiner Cemetery, when moving down Church Street the brake to the large wagon containing the asylum band broke just as the team started down the hill, and the pole horses being unable to hold back, the load started down the steep hill on a run, the driver not being able to check them. As the team was in the rear of the procession it was an ugly looking sight to see three horses dashing at a breakneck speed, through that long line, with a close cart containing fifteen men, most of them of pipes. The procession broke ranks in rather quick time when the alarm was sounded, and the driver with great presence of mind and remarkable nerve, managed to keep the horses in the middle of the street, and finally ran them into the side of the depot at the foot of the street, and stopped them without any damage. Several jumped from the cart and were slightly bruised but no one seriously. It was a great wonder that several were not killed, as the square in front of the Evans House was packed full of men, women and children watching the procession as it moved down the hill, when the runaway team dashed through.

There is some talk of offering three prizes for the three best shots.

THE ANNIVERSARY EXERCISES of the Women's Temperance Union last evening were of an interesting character and well attended. Crowell and Lawrence, and highly appreciated by the audience. Mrs. Plummer of the Union and Mrs. Pickard of the Crusade spoke briefly, and Rev. Messrs. Bolton and Hamlin gave eloquent addresses. Mr. H. is a young artist with a growing reputation, and in some respects better known abroad than at home. His picture "The Adirondacks from Vermont," which is still in the Centennial exhibition at Philadelphia, gave him the stamp of market merit among artists and amateurs; one of our commissioners reporting it as "commanding the admiration of all who saw it." The exhibition will be one of great interest, as well to those who admire as to those who would purchase choice paintings. Those who buy can feel assured, without reference to price, that the pictures are worthy a place by the side of those of older and more famous artists. A single visit will convince them.

CITY AFFAIRS.

At the adjourned meeting of the City Council held last evening the following business was transacted:

IN BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

Petition for a gas light at the corner of Birch and Garland Sts., referred to Committee on Gas Lights.

Petition of Mark Thompson for damages resulting from flowage by reason of the construction of the dam at Treat's Falls, referred to Water Board and City Solicitor.

Order for Street Commissioner to examine and make such repairs to culvert on Grove street as he may deem necessary, passed.

Report of Committee on Gas Lights on order of inquiry into the matter of lighting streets accepted, and order to contract with Bangor Gas Company on the same terms as last year, passed.

Report of same committee on order for lighting bridge at the Salt mill, accepted and order for committee to contract for lighting said bridge at a cost of not exceeding $15 per year, passed.

Order instructing the heads of the various departments to so conduct his department that the expenses of the same shall not exceed the amount appropriated therefor, passed.

There was considerable discussion on the question of appropriations. Alderman C. P. Brown said he was surprised at the action of the Council, and that he would move that the Board adhere to their original vote on the school appropriation of $16,000.

A motion was then made that the Mayor appoint a committee of three to confer with a committee from the Common Council, and Aldermen C. P. Brown, Harriman and Jones, were appointed from this Board and Councilmen Thompson, Merrill, Desmond, Bragg, and Grover of Ward 3.

As the Council were engaged on other business at this time, the Aldermen proceeded to take action on the amount appropriated for discount on taxes.

Alderman C. P. Brown said that he would move that the Board insist on their original vote striking out this appropriation. He thought the present system an unfair one, and that it would be better to establish the system referred to in the last meeting, that is, if a man does not pay his tax at the time it is due charge him a certain per cent. of interest on the amount until it is paid. That there was no danger of the city getting short of funds, and if it did, he would guarantee to raise money and put it in the Treasury on security from the city.

Alderman Harriman was in favor of laying the matter on the table until the members of the Board could make some investigation in regard to the system which is proposed.

Alderman Stetson said that he was in favor of inviting the City Treasurer to come before the Board and get his views on the matter; that he had investigated the matter, and he would move that an invitation be extended to him. As this motion was refused a passage, it was moved that the matter be laid on the table, which was also refused a passage.

The motion of Alderman Brown was then passed.

Alderman Harriman then moved that a committee of conference be appointed.

Alderman C. P. Brown said that when the Board voted to insist on their original vote that settled the question as far as the Board was concerned, and that a committee of conference was not ruleable.

While the Board was discussing parliamentary law a message was received from the Common Council that a committee of conference on the school fund had been appointed, and the Board took a recess for the purpose of allowing the committees to confer.

The committee reported that they were unable to agree, and this Board voted to adhere to its former vote on the school appropriation.

A message was then received from the lower Board asking for a Committee of Conference on the discount matter, and Aldermen Stetson and Harriman were appointed from this Board. After conferring, the committee reported that they had agreed upon the sum of $20.000 for discount on taxes.

Alderman C. P. Brown said that he was not surprised at the report of the committee; that it was a one-sided affair, the committee from the lower Board having been appointed with a view of defeating the matter, and that he would move that the report be rejected. He said that an undue influence had been brought to bear on members of the lower Board, and that corrupt motives were at work, and that they seemed determined to make the appropriations as large as possible.

Alderman Stetson then arose and called the gentleman from Ward 3 to order, saying that he had no right to cast any reflection on the members of the lower Board.

The sum of $20,000 was then fixed by the Board on calling the yeas and nays as follows:

"Yeas"—Aldermen Harriman, W. H. Brown, Stetson and Jones. "Nays"—Aldermen Colton, C. P. Brown and Pinkard.

Alderman C. P. Brown here remarked that he was very much surprised to see Alderman Harriman vote as he did.

Alderman Harriman replied that the gentleman from Ward 3, was accountable for his own vote only, and that he was capable of taking care of his vote.

The appropriation for schools was also fixed at $20,000 by yea and nay vote as follows: "Yeas"—Aldermen Harriman, W. H. Brown, Stetson and Jones. "Nays"—Aldermen Colton, C. P. Brown and Pickard. The lower Board concurred in the above matters and a resolve fixing the appropriations as heretofore reported was finally passed.

Orders rescinding orders to allow free use of water for sprinkling streets came up passed by lower Board and laid on the table in this Board.

IN COMMON COUNCIL.

An order rescinding orders granting free use of water to D. P. Wingate and E. C. Danforth for sprinkling streets, was introduced and advocated by Councilman Desmond and elicited considerable discussion, Councilmen Thompson, Merrill, Gillispie and Bragg advocating the passage of the order and Councilmen Webb, Spratt and Lyon opposing it. It was finally passed by a vote of 9 to 7.

Order for substitution of kerosene for gas in Steamers, Hose and Hook and Ladder companies houses, was referred to the Committee on City Property.

The matter of appropriation for School Department came from the Upper Board endorsed, "voted to insist on former vote" and calling for a Committee of Conference which was granted, and after conferring with the committee from the other board, they reported that they were unable to agree, and after considerable discussion a vote was taken on compromising, by making the appropriation $20,000, which was defeated by a vote of 9 in favor to 10 against, and it was finally voted by 10 yeas to 9 nays to adhere to former vote.

The upper Board having voted to adhere to its former vote in regard to appropriation for discount on taxes, this Board called for a committee of conference, which was granted and after conferring with the committee from the upper Board, they reported in favor of making an appropriation of $20,000, and the report was accepted and the committee discharged.

The matter of appropriation for schools again came back from Board of Aldermen that board having voted to make the amount $20,000, and it was finally voted to concur, thus establishing it at the above amount.

The two Boards adjourned at a quarter 12.30 A. M.

Brownville Items.

A twenty-five foot vein of slate has lately been discovered twenty rods Southwest of the old quarry, which promises to be of more value than the entire original quarry. "Old Kin," a veteran mule, in a fit of "pure ugliness," backed a load of gravel into the hole at the above quarry, falling a distance of fifty feet, completely demolishing the whole arrangement. This is the first time the old fellow was ever known to be perfectly obedient to the wishes of others.

The Calipian B. B. Club is to play the Dover Club at Dover next Saturday. The Club consider themselves champions of Piscataquis county, and have thus far come off winners in every game. Last season they challenged the Orients of your city but the challenge was not accepted for some reason. I presume the Orients would be allowed to accept, even now.

Young crops were only saved from frost in this vicinity Wednesday night by a smart breeze from the Northwest.

There is talk of putting in a clothes-pin factory here. This will make a market for part of the thousands of cords of white birch growing in this vicinity.

The annual meeting of the Stockholders of this Company will be held at the office of A. W. Paine, Esq., in Bangor, on WEDNESDAY, the 26th day of June, instant, at 3 o'clock P. M., for the following purposes, viz: To choose a Board of Directors for the ensuing year, and to act upon any other business that may properly come before them.

Per order of the Directors.

JOHN S. RICKER, Secretary.

Bangor, June 5th, 1878.

To my Patrons and Friends in Bangor and vicinity—Greeting.

For many years I have used "VULCANITE RUBBER" as a BASE for artificial teeth. But there is merely in this plate and many who wear teeth prepared in this way, have suffered severely with canker, in the mouth. But for more than three years I have used a new patent—the CELLULOID BASE, with the greatest satisfaction. This plate is entirely free from everything that can produce soreness to the mouth. My patients are delighted with it, and the more I use it the better I like. Those who suffer from the use of RUBBER can come and have a new set of teeth made upon "Celluloid" for a very small sum.

All dental work that comes to me, I will do in the best possible manner and at the lowest terms.

Yours truly,

J. H. LINCOLN,

ST. NICHOLAS.

SCRIBNER'S ILLUSTRATED MAGAZINE

FOR

GIRLS AND BOYS.

*The LONDON ACADEMY, of December 15th, 1877, says: "In ST. NICHOLAS we welcome the best standard of juvenile literature that we have yet seen. * * * We have no hesitation in saying that both in the letter press and in the pictures this American magazine has no rival.*

In ST. NICHOLAS for December, the Grand Christmas Number, was begun a charming new

Serial Story by Miss Alcott

"Under the Lilacs," illustrated by MARY HALLOCK FOOTE, to continue during the year. This same Christmas number of which one hundred thousand copies were printed, contained the opening chapters of a "ROBINSON CRUSOE" STORY for boys, "Tower-Mountain," by GUSTAVUS FRANKENSTEIN, also poems by LONGFELLOW and BRYANT, a portrait of Miss Alcott, half a dozen short stories, pictures, poems, etc., etc. It is the handsomest number of a child's magazine ever issued.

The NEW YORK TRIBUNE says:

"ST. NICHOLAS has a list of contributors such as no other child's magazine, or few publications of any sort, in the world can boast. It has coaxed the best writers in America to turn their attention to the task of giving delight and imparting culture to children. In the avalanche of immoral literature that threatens the children, some strong, vitally wholesome, and really attractive magazine is required for them and ST. NICHOLAS has reached a higher platform, and commands for this service wider resources in art and letters, than any of its predecessors or contemporaries."

ST. NICHOLAS FOR 1878.

Besides the SERIAL STORIES above announced, will have a short serial story by the author of The Schonberg-Cotta Family; and THREE SPLENDID SERIALS FOR BOYS, one of which "DRIFTED INTO PORT," by EDWIN HODDER, an English writer, will begin in March. "Around the world in a Yacht, Boys!" has been promised by a brilliant writer, now on the actual tour of the world in his own yacht. There will be contributions by a daughter of the famous Peter Parley, and a "Letter to Young Americans by GEORGE MACDONALD.

The "HOW" Series of instructive papers, by various authors, will tell HOW to bind your own books; HOW they mine coal; HOW to enjoy yourselves at home; HOW to be an agreeable guest; HOW to entertain company; HOW to be a carpenter; HOW to make an ice-boat; HOW to build a house; How India rubber is gathered; HOW matches are made; HOW to be a Parlor Magician; HOW money is made; HOW mackerel are caught; HOW they laid the Atlantic cable; HOW they mine in California; HOW they work in the tea-country; etc. There will be also a series of stories and sketches of Foreign Life, such as "Old Nicolai" (a Russian story), "A Day among the Welsh Castles," "Easter in Germany," "The Indians of the Amazon," "How Kitty was lost in a Turkish Bazar," "Master Montezuma" (a Mexican story), "Hans the Lapp Maiden," and many others.

TRAVEL AND ADVENTURE,

LETTER CARRIERS.

All letters are delivered free by carriers when addressed to street and number. People should inform their correspondents of above and have their letters addressed accordingly.

Persons leaving their address at the General Delivery can also have their letters sent, but it is much more convenient to have the street and number on, and they will be delivered earlier than if the same is put on at the office. Carriers make two deliveries daily, the first trip supplying the extremes of their routes.

Collections are made morning and evening in season for important mails—the down town boxes fifteen and the up town boxes thirty minutes before closing mails at the office.

Holidays the Carriers' Window will be open for the delivery of letters from 8½ to 9½ A. M., and from 7½ to 8 P. M. Sundays from 9½ to 10 A. M.

Any irregularities in the Carriers' department should be reported to the office.

ENVELOPES.

No additional charge will be made for printing the name and request to return, across the left hand upper corner of the envelopes furnished by the Post Office Department, (samples of which may be seen at the Cashier's window,) when ordered in lots of not less than 500.

A request for the return of a letter to the writer, if unclaimed within thirty days, or less, written or printed, with the writer's name, post office and State, across the left end of the envelope, on the face side, will be complied with.

The public are earnestly recommended to procure Stamped envelopes with printed return request, as the expense is less, and letters thus endorsed, if not delivered to the person addressed, are returned to the writer free of charge.

Stamps cut from Stamped Envelopes cannot be used to prepay postage. The use of such Stamps is punishable by a fine of fifty dollars.
